Description, Pages 51

1 A third-party observatino has been received on 07-06-2023, in which it was alleged that claim 1 was not clear (Art. 84 EPC in combination with GL, F-IV, 4.11) for the reason that the method for determining the parameters L*, a* and b* is not mentioned in the claim (although the third-party acknowledges that the measuring method is clearly mentioned in the description).

2 The examining division is of the opinion that, although the measuring method and conditions for the determination of these parameters are clearly indicated in the description, the scope of claim 1 could be clarified further by introducing a reference to said measuring method, such as "as measured according to the test method disclosed herein...".

However the applicant is invited to provide comment on this observation and to file an amended claim 1, where applicable.
